Says Faubus Not Broke, He Has Tax Money

By JOHN R. STARR
 Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Winthrop Rockefeller said Thursday that Gov. Orval E. Faubus is not as much of a poor boy as the governor would like for people to think.

Rockefeller paid his $1,500 filing fee, signed a corrupt practices pledge, and became a Republican candidate for governor.

Faubus, who filed Wednesday as a Democratic candidate, remarked at the time that it would be interesting to see if a poor boy could still beat a millionaire.

Rockefeller made it clear that he doesn't believe Faubus is a poor boy.

"After all," he said, "I don't have the taxpayers' money to help me."

He explained that he was referring to Faubus' recent announcement of a $3 monthly increase in the welfare grant.

Rockefeller said he had not yet drawn up his campaign budget, but "I'm satisfied that it's not going to be cheap."

An informal news conference followed Rockefeller's filing for governor.

He told newsmen that a victory for him in the race for governor would contribute a great deal to building a two-party system in Arkansas. He said he was as interested in promotion a two-party system as he was in becoming governor.

Rockefeller said he hoped the poor boy-rich boy, and the city (Continued on Page Eight)

Circus Opens to Capacity Crowd Here

A capacity crowd viewed the opening night performance of Barnes and Bailey Circus at Fair Park Thursday night. Presented under the auspices of the Millwood Shrine Club with proceeds to be used for local underprivileged children, the three-ring circus began its 1964 season in Hope where it has been in winter quarters.

An enthusiastic reception was given to such acts as those by skilled tight wire artists, trapeze performers, well-trained elephants, and a sharp-eyed knife-thrower. Of prime interest was the talented display of precision stepping by one of the famous Leipzig white stallions.

A spokesman for the circus expressed appreciation to the people of Hope for the way Barnes and Bailey personnel had been received during their stay, and he said they are planning to return next winter.

Howard Files for Re-Election

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Chancellor Wesley Howard of Texarkana, the judge in the controversial Archie Cude child custody case, filed today for reelection in the 6th Chancery district.

Howard was a resident of De Queen the last time he ran. He has no opposition so far.

Howard's filing completes the list of chancery races this year. Judge Murray O. Reed is seeking reelection in the first district and Sam W. Garrett in the 3rd. Neither has opposition.

U.S. to Close 63 More Bases Over Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara today announced 63 new actions closing or reducing military bases, depots and arsenals and consolidating offices. He estimated savings at $68 million a year.

McNamara said slicing away at least eight unneeded facilities, scaling down 14 others, combining separate contract monitoring offices in 29 cities, and other actions would yield savings "without in any reducing military effectiveness."

These latest moves in a three-year economy drive, now embraced by President Johnson, bring the number of bases ordered closed or reduced to more than 500.

When added to those other moves, the Pentagon said, the 63 new actions will:

Save $551 million a year in operating costs.

Eliminate 81,600 civilian jobs and military assignments. Of these 10,056 will drop away as a result of today's actions.

Sheriff Otto Brinkman said the Negro youth told his grandmother, Mrs. Purdy Robinson, that he was going swimming. When he did not return, she went to the pond and found his clothes on the bank.

The body was recovered at midnight by the Atkins and Russellville fire department rescue units.

Heavy Rainfall Floods Points in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The severe weather climaxed a week of heavy rain. More rain was forecast over the weekend.

El Dorado, Texarkana and Magnolia appeared hardest hit by flash floods. No injuries were reported.

The water ran out of the stores quickly, but stood in the streets up to the headlights of cars. Several cars were washed sideways.

At Texarkana, a few families were evacuated by boat from flooded homes in one low-lying area. Several businesses and homes were flooded.

The Ouachita River and its tributaries were above flood stage at almost all points. The river stood at 24.5 feet at Arkadelphia, where the flood stage is 17. At Camden it was at 25.5 feet. The flood stage is 26.

The Weather Bureau said the river should overflow its banks at Camden Monday, cresting at seven feet above flood stage.

The Ouachita rose more than eight feet after Wednesday's rains. It rose 7.5 feet from Thursday to Friday at Arkadelphia and 6.9 feet at Camden.

The Weather Bureau said the river could go as much as 10 (Continued on Page Eight)

Newsman Fight Gov. Interference

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States news media continue to struggle against interference by "big government," although government agencies sometime cooperate with publishers to serve the public interest, the American Newspaper Publishers Association was told today.

Stanford Smith of Bronxville, N.Y., general manager of the association, told of moves by the ANPA and individual newspapers against such government activities as a market news wire service operated by the Department of Agriculture; "the logjam on news that exists at some places on the federal level," and efforts of the Federal Trade Commission to rule on cigarette advertising.

"A free press is free only so long as it is free from the interference of government," Smith said in a speech at the ANPA annual meeting.

"Unfortunately, in these days of complex newspaper operations, government can interfere with a free press without the necessity of license. The newspaper business can be subjected to pressures not anticipated in the constitution," he said.

"Indirectly, governments in other countries have killed a free press by measures which restrict the supply of newsprint; by laws which restrict its circulation; and by labor laws which give unions an unreasonable authority in the management of the newspapers' affairs," Smith said.

"The U.S. federal government has already taken some steps in that direction, and they have been vigorously opposed by ANPA and many newspapers."

"The chief danger to a free press is from government, Big Government, especially. "Since the press is the only business with constitutional protection, we must be constantly alert on behalf of the people whom we serve.

"We've had to oppose government action and intervention in some areas and we have, in others, been able to work in cooperation with government agencies to bring about the most de-

Closed Plants May Convert to Civil Use

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nuclear explosives plants shut down by President Johnson's cutback in plutonium production may be converted into huge civilian electric power plants.

The Atomic Energy Commission considers the conversion to be technically feasible and has invited utility firms to undertake studies, at their own expense, of the economic and engineering problems involved.

Two reactors soon to be withdrawn from producing plutonium — one at AEC's Hanford, Wash., installation and the other at Savannah River, S.C. — have been offered for commercial power generation.

An AEC official said the two have the capability of delivering "many hundreds of megawatts" of electric power — that is, many hundreds of millions of watts — if the shift to peaceful use can be carried through.

This would suggest a capacity larger than any of the 13 nuclear plants now producing commercial power.

A Savannah River, one group of 11 Southern utility companies has signed an agreement with AEC to invest $300,000 to $400,000 in studying the feasibility of taking over the heavy-water type reactor scheduled to be shut down about July 1.

Two other groups have indicated interest in this reactor, one of them representing a number of rural electrical co-ops.

The AEC has invited private and public utilities in the Pacific Northwest to undertake similar feasibility studies at the Hanford Center, looking to the possible conversion and operation of one of the three plutonium-producing reactors being discontinued there.

Some utility groups have expressed interest informally in this reactor, an AEC spokesman said, but none has yet committed itself to undertake a feasibility study.

The AEC is particularly anxious to encourage private ventures at Hanford, because curtailment of AEC activities

SEX STIMULANTS: FACTS AND FALLACIES

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: I'm a man in my late forties. Are sexual stimulants effective? If so, which are the best? — Mr. X.

Dear Mr. X.: The power of sexual stimulants is largely psychological. You may hear from a friend that eating this or that will increase your sexual ability, and simply from the belief that it will you will seem to notice a helpful effect.

We find the same psychological situation in modern medicine. A patient will complain of an imaginary illness, and the doctor will sometimes prescribe a sugar pill, or placebo. It often works like magic. The patient expects the pill to be effective, so it temporarily relieves the psychological cause which appeared to the patient as a physical illness.

You may have read that the tomato was once called a "love apple," because people thought it was a sex stimulant. Because they believed so, it acted that way. And the same is true today for oysters and clams. They are fine, if you believe they're there is expected to reduce employment in the surrounding tri-city area of Richland, Pasco and Kennewick, Wash.

Love potions and sex stimulants are now called aphrodisiacs, from Aphrodite, the goddess of love. Since prehistoric times, man had begun to excite his sexual powers by ritual dances. In fact, the ecstasy of the sexual dance was first felt and organized by the females, who were put in the role of priestesses, and the ritual became known as the fertility dance, and directed toward fertilization.

As centuries passed, medical science advanced, and the use of sex stimulants became more sophisticated. But the basic principle remained the same: the power of suggestion.

You asked in your letter what the best sex stimulants are. They are very simple, and they are two: Be in love, and be healthy.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — If network television's judgment is correct, this is national F—for Fair—Day.

For weeks, with mounting excitement, the networks' news departments have been paying close attention to the billion-dollar installation rising on Flushing Meadows for a two-year run.

That may be because the New York World's Fair is the last word in fairs. It may also be because it is situated practically on the front lawn of all the networks' headquarters.

It may be that because television is a young man's game, few of the news staffs were around during the old fair 25 years ago.

It is most likely, however, that television is excited because the fair is a natural for it. Like political conventions, Senate subcommittee hearings and baseball games, it is contained in a limited space and ments came into being with supposed stimulating powers. Leading was cantharides, obtained from a beetle called "the Spanish fly." This substance, popularly thought to stimulate desire, is instead a dangerous irritant, and deadly poison. When taken by mouth, its extreme irritation is followed by great pain and convulsions, often ending in death. At autopsy, both kidneys are usually found to have been partly destroyed.

Another preparation popularly regarded as a sex stimulant, but actually a poison in large doses, is santonin, extracted from a plant. It can soon affect the vision, and lead to convulsions and death, also destroying the kidneys.

In Europe, especially in France, absinthe is regarded as a sex stimulant. But what its enthusiasts don't know is that it contains and oil chemically related to santonin, and can cause a slow degeneration of the nervous system, with serious mental changes and hallucinations.

Along with these products are a large number of modern preparations to be sex stimulants, but in their effect simply remove our inhibitions, and replace them with excitement and desire for self-expression. They act like alcohol in this respect. They decrease inhibition, but inhibit sexual ability. So, in the end, their use is misleading — at best, frustrating, and at worst, poisonous.

You asked in your letter what the best sex stimulants are. They are very simple, and they are two: Be in love, and be healthy.

most events are set up in advance so that cameras can be on the scene.

For the last few days, however, the network news departments have been acting like nervous hostesses planning lavish parties but fearful at the last minute that nobody will find the house.

The fears are the result of plans for massive integration demonstrations that could destroy the whole gala atmosphere, keep the crowds away and change the whole plan for coverage.

None is as dismayed, perhaps, as executives of a big company which has spent well over a million dollars for tonight's 90-minute NBC special on the official opening designed to draw the nation's viewers on a tour of the attractions.

It has been in the works for months. Now suddenly, the fair opening has become a news story instead of an opportunity for light entertainment.

"We're still thinking of it as an entertainment show," said an NBC spokesman Tuesday night. But he sounded nervous.

Recommended tonight: "Opening Night at the World's Fair," NBC, 7:30-9 p.m. EST. Henry Fonda is host, with Carol Channing, Lorne Greene, Fred MacMurray, Marian Anderson and Cantinflas.

Russia Sides Cuba in Air Controversy

MOSCOW (AP) — Izvestia declared today the Soviet Union will side with Cuba if the controversy about U.S. reconnaissance flights leads to "a treacherous attack" on that island nation.

The U.S. military flights over Cuba were denounced as violations of sovereign rights of an independent state, the U.N. charter and "generally recognized standards of international law."

The Soviet government newspaper declared in an article signed by "Commentator," which means someone in high authority, that Cuba has an inalienable right "to take the necessary measures to put an end to the intrusions."

"Gentlemen, do not try to intimidate us," it said. "If Cuba is subjected to a treacherous attack, the Soviet Union will not put up with it and will side with Cuba. It has declared this before and confirms this now."

Bodies Recovered From the Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The bodies of two drowning victims were recovered from the Arkansas River near here Thursday.

Melvin Taylor of Little Rock and another man pulled in the body of Richard Evalt, 24, of North Little Rock, who jumped from the Broadway Bridge on April 15.

Taylor and his friend were fishing from the river bank.

Another fisherman spotted the body of Charles Fisher, 20, of brace, Ill., who drowned Sunday while floating on logs in the river.

Firemen recovered the body.

Republican Dinner

PINE BLUFF (AP) — A $5-a-plate dinner will open Winthrop Rockefeller's campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nomination at Pine Bluff Thursday evening. Rockefeller will speak on the theme, "Arkansas needs a two party system." The dinner is sponsored by Pine Bluff Republican clubs.

couple. After trading wisecracks and making fun of Madison Avenue advertising agency men, they introduced a plot, sorta. They weren't really married at all—loathed each other in fact—and then their sponsor ordered them to have a baby to lift their sagging rating.

All this would have been pretty gruesome in almost any other hands. Happily both Miss Ball and Hope are pretty knowledgeable about comedy. Hope can deliver a funny line effectively even when the viewer can see him reading it from an off-camera prompter.

NBC's "Show of the Week" anthology series, which dies at the end of this season, has been plagued by script troubles. Sunday night's was a happy exception. It had pace, style and even a point of view.

Lucille Ball and Bob Hope, who enjoy performing together, had an hour's romp on CBS Sunday night, a comedy that by almost any standard was both corny and old hat.

They played Bonnie and Bill, "Mr. and Mrs. America," the nation's most-popular television

LBJ Never Let Up in Rail Talks

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson put a way of life to work—his way—and the railroad dispute was settled without a strike. His performance here is perhaps the best single insight into how he runs the presidency.

How did he get the railroads' management and unions to reach a settlement after being at each other's throat for five years? He worked at it. He never got off their backs.

He has more drive than Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy and more down to earth dogged persistence, and apparently far more energy as was demonstrated in this past week alone by all his handshaking, speeches and news conferences.

Whether in the long run his general judgment is half so good as either man's remains to be seen in future events.

He made his reputation as Democratic leader in the Senate—and he was probably the best Senate leader in this century—by getting opposing sides to compromise their differences and reach agreement. And he was tireless.

He did exactly the same in the rail dispute which had dragged on since 1959. In their time neither Eisenhower nor Kennedy could get the two sides to agree. But Johnson did.

The case reached the Supreme Court twice: Congress stepped in once (1963); a presidential commission arbitration board and emergency board failed to prevail; and the government exhausted its machinery for delaying or stopping a strike.

It was due to begin April 10. Johnson called both sides to the White House and on the night of April 9 got an agreement there would be no strike before April 25 and that in the meantime the two sides would work hard for a settlement.

The President kept them at it day and night worked Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz overtime, and called in experienced outside mediators to help out. Johnson was on top of it all the time. He coaxed but didn't threaten.

He had a big personal and political stake in the outcome himself. He put his presidential prestige on the line in this one—particularly by making optimistic statements—and a strike would have been an impressive setback.

A settlement would mean the opposite. No wonder he was so delighted when he rushed to a studio to go on the air—although it meant interrupting programs—and announce the result as fast as he could.

Johnson is not experienced in foreign affairs. He lacks Kennedy's intellectuality and the heroic symbolism of Eisenhower. And the typical corn of the American politician pops through his public statements.

But he is, above everything a politician and it is as such that he is running the presidency. But that is not meant just shaking hands and making speeches, although he does plenty of both.

There are various kinds of politician: The pompous, the pompous, the placid, the active, and the very aggressive who tries, often behind the scenes, to anticipate and shape events.

Johnson is this aggressive kind. For example: He has kept up a private correspondence with Soviet Premier Khrushchev and as a result of it Johnson and the Russian were able to announce at the same time they were cutting down production of material for nuclear weapons.

How much of the same he is doing with other world leaders

Two Nations Make Plans to Merge

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) — The presidents of Tanganyika and the neighboring island of Zanzibar have agreed to merge their countries to form a new nation, the government of Tanganyika announced today.

Diplomatic sources in London said they thought the merger would diminish Communist influence in East Africa. But they added it could open the door to more Red penetration via Zanzibar.

The British Commonwealth Office in London said the merger presumably would take some time to complete.

Informed sources in Dar es Salaam, the capital of Tanganyika, said the new nation would be run from here.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Commercial television may be free, but experience has shown that the viewing public is happy to spend hard cash to see their favorites in the flesh.

Result is a flourishing and extremely profitable sideline for many popular television performers. It is personal appearances, summer theatre performances and special acts for fairs, rodeos and exhibitions.

Stars of westerns are always in demand for state and county fairs and rodeos.

Performers who are not considered actors by the television public are very popular with audiences. Among them are Merv Griffin, Allen Ludden, Hugh Downs and Ed McMahon.

A fair, particularly a billion-dollar fair is a pretty exciting event.

But the New York World's Fair, officially opened Wednesday, was just too big, too diverse to be handled by a 90-minute television special.

NBC did its level best Wednesday night to give the nation an over-all look at the big show. Some of the photography was stunningly beautiful. But in spite of almost desperate efforts to make the arm-chair tour entertaining, it turned out to be a very long and frequently boring program.

Burglars in Poinsett County are down on their luck.

Several days ago they ripped open a safe at a Waldenburg supply firm and found nothing.

Then they hit a Caraway lumber firm in adjoining Craighead County and found the safe open.

Next they broke into the Trumann Implement Co. and stole an acetylene cutting torch. They broke into an auto dealer's place next door and used the torch to cut open the safe.

They found only papers.

A Little Rock second grader with the mumps anxious for Captain Kangaroo to start began pestering her mother about 45 minutes before show time.

"Mamma, is it eight o'clock yet?"

"No, it's 45 minutes." Thirty five minutes later, "Is it time yet?"

"No, it's 10 minutes." Exactly 10 minutes later, "Mamma, is it eight o'clock. Can I get up?"

Eight o'clock it was, exactly. "How do you know its eight o'clock?"

"I counted to 60 ten times, slow."

At Jonesboro, Duke has failed to make it as a policeman.

At first, he had the proper qualifications it seemed—which is why Lt. Vernon Walker started training him.

But Duke just didn't have the makings. He was too friendly. German Police or not, he couldn't be ferocious. There were too many kinds in the neighborhood to play with.

His training career ended when Walker had to look for him twice, after he got out of his pen and followed somebody else home.

Officials of the Grand Prairie is not known. But this is how he operates because this is how he always operated in the Senate—on the telephone or in his office—making arrangements on a vote before the vote was taken.

In the end, all the extraordinary energy of Johnson will come to nothing if his judgment over a period of time proves bad. So far it seems to have been all right.

When he first took over the presidency he appeared a little unsure. As time passed and he suffered no disaster and made no apparent mistakes, he became increasingly active until now he is all over the place, talking and working.

One side of Johnson hasn't been seen yet: how he acts if things go against him.

Life Didn't Begin at 62 But It Certainly Brightened a Bit for Actor Ed Bagley

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Life didn't exactly begin at 62 for big Ed Bagley—but it brightened considerably.

For it was at that age last year that he finally reached the Olympus of the theatrical profession. He won an Academy Award for his role as Southern political boss in the film version of the Tennessee Williams play, "Sweet Bird of Youth."

Somewhat dazed, clutching the Oscar excitedly, Ed Bagley did an unusual thing. In a brief acceptance speech he thanked —of all people—the agent who had gotten him the role.

The gesture was typical of Bagley, one of the kindest and best-liked performers in show business.

"Gratitude means a very great deal to me," he said at lunch the other day in a booming voice that made waiters snap to attention 20 feet away.

They turned, stared, then smiled at Bagley, a scam-faced, craggy-featured man who looks like a gentle grizzly bear.

"I have been helped by so many people along the way," he said. "I say someone has to give you that first chance. Well, a lot of people gave me first chances.

Bagley feels he inherited his acting ambitions from his father, a Kerry County Irishman who migrated to Hartford, Conn., and became a hod carrier.

"My father could mimic any dialect and knew hundreds of songs and stories. He loved to entertain people—for the fun he got out of it."

Ed quit school in the fifth grade. Starting at the age of 11, he made a series of runaway trips from home. He worked for carnivals, fairs, and small circuses. They gave him a rough but educational experience of life.

Radio proved his first big stepping stone to fame. During the 1930s and early 1940s he appeared on more than 12,000 programs. He was doctor, detective, gangster — anything the program required.

In 1947 he went to Hollywood and acted in 21 pictures in four years. He also has starred in half a dozen Broadway hits, 75 or more television shows, and made several phonograph albums.

THE STORY: Tony Malcolm, who offered to shoot himself for a glass of brandy, now is in a clean room at the Pensione Royale in Cartama, Spain. He is the guest of Domingo, who bought the brandy and later knocked the gun from Tony's hand.

XI

That morning Domingo went to Malcolm's room in the Pensione Royale, which was near the beach. Clarke sat looking out at the sea, the stub of a cigarette plastered to his lower lip. His skin was gray and pallid in the strong morning light. He glanced around wearily when Domingo opened the door.

"He's still in the land of nod," "Good," Domingo smiled with excitement as he pulled a chair over beside the bed. "I couldn't sleep all night thinking about him. Do you realize the possibilities?"

"I couldn't sleep listening to him sniffing and crying," Clarke said.

"Ah, the poor one," Domingo said with mock solicitude, and then he burst out laughing. "Of course he has nightmares. His brain must be on fire. We'll wet it down with brandy. You have plenty?"

"Enough for a forest fire!" On the chest of drawers were several bottles of brandy, and a tray containing cold meats, cheese, bread, olives, and a pot of coffee.

Malcolm still wore his soiled Grand Prix at Stuttgart took as few chances as possible with the weather when they started that annual event.

They checked with the U.S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock and found that over a 10-year period the third weekend in April had the most rain-free record.

That particular weekend this year didn't promise to be so rain free. The forecast was full of possibilities of precipitation.

There were other omens too. A man named Noah sent in an early application for the races. His last name was Brooks. Then came one Mr. Freshour. Then Wetzel. Tom Slaymaker entered and things deepened when the name Ford appeared.

Despite all this the races were run under fine conditions.

suit, his cracked shoes. Drops of sweat glistened on his face, and occasionally a tremor shook his body. He was breathing deeply and slowly. Domingo shook his shoulders.

Malcolm opened his eyes and looked at Domingo. For a moment he lay perfectly still, and then he grunted and twisted himself up to a sitting position on the bed. He seemed puzzled and confused as he stared blankly about the room.

Domingo grinned and punched his shoulder. "You remember me?"

Malcolm frowned anxiously at him; he seemed to be making an almost physical effort to collect his thoughts. "Yes," he said in a thick, troubled voice. "Domingo?"

"Good. You remember last night?"

"Yes, I remember." "You tried to kill yourself. You tried to blow a hole through your head with my gun. You remember why?"

"We made a bargain. You gave me a glass of brandy. That's what it was worth to you."

"But you're sitting here, alive as I am. You didn't keep the bargain."

Malcolm wet his lips and shook his head helplessly.

Domingo snapped his fingers at Clarke without taking his eyes from Malcolm. "Bring me a bottle," he said, and when Clarke handed him the brandy Domingo held it out temptingly to Malcolm. He shook it gently so that the liquid flashed and sparkled in the sunlight. "I'm going to make another bargain with you," he said quietly; he was no longer smiling, and his eyes had become watchful.

"You'd kill yourself for one drink? How much do you want to kill someone else?"

"You want me to kill somebody for you?" Malcolm said in a soft, wondering voice.

"Yes. Not today, not this week, maybe not this month. You do nothing until I give you the name of who I want you to kill. You sit in the room and stay drunk. I will give you all you need to drink."

He poked Malcolm's chest with his finger the size of a banana. "It's a better bargain than last night, eh?"

"Yes," Malcolm said.

"You'll do it then? When I tell you to kill, you will do it?" He watched Malcolm nod.

The door opened and Zarren came in carrying two suitcases and a pair of cameras slung about his neck.

"Here are your clothes," Domingo said to Malcolm. "We want you to be comfortable." He bounced to his feet and gave Zarren a good-natured shove which sent him reeling across the room under the burden of luggage and cameras. "Unpack for him, put all his things away neatly," he said exuberantly.

"You know how to take care of gentlemen, how to carry suitcases, bob your head like a monkey, put out the little paw for the tip."

Zarren dropped the suitcases on the floor, his whole body trembling with anger.

"I was concierge, not waiter," he said as he knelt to un-buckle the straps about Malcolm's luggage.

Domingo smiled amiably. "Forgive me, I was joking. I'm feeling good. I feel lucky." He dropped a hand on Malcolm's shoulder, in a gesture which suggested both respect and affection. "He will do it, Zarren. He agrees to do it."

"I don't like it," Zarren said stubbornly, as he began to put Malcolm's things away.

When he was through, the

Says Prayers Don't Pit God, Godless

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The issues of prayers in public schools does not pit the godly against the godless, say several members of the House Judiciary Committee.

Aroused by the tone of early witness in the committee's hearings on proposed constitutional amendments to permit school prayers, several members erupted in protest Wednesday and demanded future witnesses address themselves to the constitutional issues only.

They had heard repeated references to cynics, atheists and "strange and obnoxious" persons opposing the amendments, and the "anti-God" nature of the Supreme Court's 1962 decision banning official school prayers.

Rep. John V. Lindsay, R-N.Y., was the first to complain. "I hope members who seriously question the issue raised here are not going to be charged with being anti-God," he said.

Lindsay said witnesses should relate the proposed amendments to the First Amendment's provision that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

"This has been called the bulwark of the republic," he said, "and the question before us now is, 'Do we want to change the First Amendment?' It must be discussed without any suggestion that those who seriously question any change are somehow anti-God, or anti-children or anti-mother."

Rep. Jacob H. Gilbert, D-N.Y., complimenting Lindsay for bringing the subject out into the open, called for an end "to all veiled accusations."

"This issue is not between the godly and the godless," Gilbert said. "It is not even a religious question. It is a serious constitutional question which all Americans must try to resolve."

Plans Tour of Depressed Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will tour the depressed Appalachian area Friday, he announced at a news conference today.

Johnson said the governors of the Appalachian states will be invited to meet with him at Huntington, W. Va.

He said he also will make stops in South Bend, Ind., and Inez and Paintsville, Ky.

Johnson said he will be accompanied by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz; Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges; Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze, and Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

Roosevelt headed a commission which studied the economic plight of the Appalachian area where there is heavy unemployment and poverty.

Other resolutions endorsed: —Strict enforcement of laws regarding limited drivers' licenses. —Driver education in secondary schools, in summer and in winter terms. —A call for a state Education Department study of overcrowding on school buses. —Continued support of legislation against pinball machines which cannot legally be played by minors. —Opposition to weakening laws requiring smallpox vaccinations of pre-school age children.

Johnson Hurls No Hitter But Loses Game

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Baseball's department of unique statistics has had its first busy day of the season.

Some three hours after Houston's Ken Johnson earned a place in the record book by losing a no-hitter to Cincinnati 1-0 Thursday night, Ken McBride of the Los Angeles Angels entered the sweepstakes.

McBride, who previously had hit two batters with pitches, stood out on the mound in the ninth inning and hit two more, forcing in Cleveland's winning run in a 3-2 victory and equaling an American League record for most hit batters in one game.

McBride got into the ninth-inning jam on singles by Fred Whitfield and Tito Francona, who collected the 1,000th hit of his major league career earlier in the game. McBride then hit Johnny Romano and Woody Held in succession, forcing in the tie-breaking run.

The Baltimore Orioles gained a doubleheader split with Boston, winning the nightcap of a twilight doubleheader 1-0 behind the pitching of Robin Roberts after a 3-1 opening-game loss.

In the opener, the Orioles lost the services of Steve Barber, the only Baltimore 20-game winner since the club rejoined the American League 10 years ago.

Barber figured a muscle under his left shoulder blade in the pre-game warmup, was tagged for two runs in the first inning and then forced to leave. There was no word on how long Barber would be sidelined.

Only one other game was scheduled in the AL. In that, Bill Skowron drove in the winning run with a single in the eighth inning as Washington edged Minnesota 5-4.

Besides the Colts-Reds game in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated St. Louis 7-5, Philadelphia edged Pittsburgh 6-5 and the Chicago Cubs whipped the New York Mets 5-1. San Francisco and Milwaukee were not scheduled.

The Angels pulled ahead of the Indians 2-0 in the fourth on a triple by Jim Fregosi, an infield out, an error, a stolen base and Bob Rodgers' single.

The Indians tied it in the fifth when Whitfield doubled, Francona singled and pitcher Dick Donovan singled both home.

Donovan got credit for the victory when the bizarre ending was fashioned by McBride.

Dodgers End Losing Streak, Chicago Wins

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

"So I made history. Heckuva way to get into the books, isn't it?"

Houston pitcher Ken Johnson had just pitched a unique no-hit game against his former Cincinnati teammates Thursday night and lost 1-0 on two errors in the ninth inning, one of them his.

It was the first no-hit game of the young major league season and the second in the Colts' brief three-year history. But it was even more than that.

Johnson is the first pitcher ever to hurl a no-hitter and lose in a nine-inning game and the first ever to lose a game without giving the opposing team a hit. Other pitchers have gone through nine hitless innings but lost in extra innings after allowing hits.

Johnson, a knuckleball specialist, was well aware of the no-hitter during the game. After the seventh inning, he asked teammate Don Nottbart, "How's a guy supposed to feel, Notty? What do you do?"

Nottbart, who hurled Houston's first no-hit game last May 17 against Philadelphia, replied: "Stay loose and keep going."

After he had concluded his bizarre performance, Johnson scorned sympathy.

"What else can I do?" he asked, smiling. "I pitched the best game of my life. I can't feel bad because I lost it. Actually, I feel worse for the guys on the club. I guess that sounds funny, but it's true."

In other National League games, Philadelphia nipped Pittsburgh 6-5, Los Angeles downed St. Louis 7-5 for its first victory after seven straight defeats and Chicago stopped New York 5-1.

In the American League, Cleveland edged Los Angeles 3-2, Washington squeezed past Minnesota 5-4 and Boston and Baltimore split a doubleheader, the Red Sox taking the first, game 3-1 and the Orioles the second 1-0.

Johnson, who already had won two games this season, blamed himself for the defeat. His wild throw on Pete Rose's bunt with one out in the ninth put Rose on second, and he reached third on an infield out.

Then Vada Pinson hit a routine grounder to Nellie Fox. The veteran second baseman booted the ball, allowing Rose to score.

Even after that inning, another oddity still was to come. The Colts' Pete Runnels hit a ground ball and appeared to be thrown out in Houston's ninth. First base umpire Stan Landes called it that way. However, home plate umpire Augie Donatelli overruled Landes, saying first baseman Deron Johnson never had full control of the ball.

The Reds immediately announced they were playing the game under protest. But the Colts were unable to score as Joe Nuxhall came out the winner with a five-hitter.

Rookie John Werhas' two-run single in the eighth inning halted the Dodgers' disastrous losing ways. The hit off relief pitcher Bobby Shantz followed two walks and a safe bunt.

Coaching Clinic Now Underway

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—More than 400 high school and college coaches are expected for the two-day Arkansas Coaching Clinic, which opens today.

They will get a look at the latest techniques used to ready the Razorback football team for Southwest Conference action.

For the first time in five years, the coaches won't be looking at a bowl team.

Among the minor changes in the Arkansas offense is the introduction of the "I" formation, which probably will be demonstrated in a full-scale scrimmage Saturday afternoon in Razorback Stadium.

City, Iowa, and Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C. Gloria Armstrong of Alameda, Calif. and Jo Ann Prentice of Birmingham, Ala. had par 72s.

Defending champion Marilyn Smith of Runaway Bay, Jamaica, was tied with Louise Sings of Cincinnati at 73. Tournament favorite Mickey Wright of Dallas, Tex., was tied with six others at 74, five strokes off the pace.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The PGA doesn't carry such a statistic but the 10-man tie for first place in the $40,000 Texas Open's first round Thursday was believed to be a record.

Nobody could remember it ever happening before. They knew it certainly never had happened in the Texas Open, which is in its 37th year.

Six tied for the lead in the second round last year and it was agreed then that it was a record.

The 10 were jammed at the top with three-under-par 67s over the 6,715-yard Oak Hills Country Club course.

The big names—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Julius Boros—passed up the Texas Open this year. But there still were some pretty well-known and respected fellows working over par.

The leaders include Gene Littler, former National Open champion; Bob Charles, British Open king; Bob Rosburg, former PGA champion; Don January, and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison; Charles Sifford, the Negro star playing in his first Texas Open, and Jack Rule.

The only players who have not yet notched a tournament victory were Jerry Steelsmith, Terry Dill and Gary Floan. Dill and Floan are recent collegians, Dill at the University of Texas and Floan at University of Idaho.

The 42-year-old Harrison gave the crowd a boost when he sank a 20-foot putt on No. 8 to tie for the lead after a stirring comeback from a bogey and double bogey on the front nine.

Littler barely missed becoming the undisputed leader. He three-putted 18, bobbling a four-footer on his second try.

Thirty players racked up par in the first round, which was about an average for the Texas Open.

Veteran Jimmy Demaret, who has played in 24 of the tournaments and to whom it was dedicated this year, posted a 71. Demaret has been runner-up four times.

Can't Feel Bad Because He Lost It

HOUSTON (AP)—"I pitched the best game of my life. I can't feel bad because I lost it."

That's the way right-hander Ken Johnson of the Houston Colts described his performance against the Cincinnati Reds Thursday night when he became the first pitcher in major league history to pitch a no-hitter and lose in nine innings. It was the first no-hitter of the 1964 season.

The Reds scored an unearned run in the ninth inning on two errors for their 1-0 victory.

One of the errors was by Johnson and the other by veteran second baseman Nellie Fox. "Even if we had tied it," Johnson said, "I couldn't have gone on."

He displayed an ugly bruise, the shape and color of a plum, on his leg.

Johnson said he received the bruise when Chico Ruiz hit a line drive that caromed off his shin in the ninth. Bob Aspromonte played the carom and threw Ruiz out.

Johnson figured it was the closest the Reds came to a hit. "Actually I feel worse for the guys on the club," Johnson said in the dressing room after the game. "I guess that sounds funny, but it's true."

Johnson, seeking his third straight win of the season, was practically untouchable for eight innings. He started his own downfall with one out in the ninth when he fielded Pete Rose's bunt and threw wild on the inside of the bag as Rose went all the way to second.

Ruiz' hard grounder then struck Johnson on the leg and caromed off toward third. Aspromonte alertly fielded the ball and threw out Ruiz, with Rose going to third.

Vada Pinson grounded to Fox, who booted the relatively easy chance on a short hop, and Rose sped home with the only run of the game.

In the dressing room, Johnson put his arm around Fox's shoulder.

"I told Nellie it wasn't his fault," Johnson said. "It was mine. I put the guy (Rose) on base, and I have no one to blame but myself."

Johnson, termed a hard-luck pitcher, had an 11-17 record last year and lost many because his teammates could not produce any runs for him. However, he won his last five games in 1963 and recorded a 2.65 earned run average.

Nine pitchers before Johnson had no-hitters at the end of nine, but allowed hits and were beaten in extra innings. The last was Harvey Haddix of Pittsburgh, who lost to Milwaukee in 1959.

Phone Firm Seeks to Borrow Cash

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The Public Service Commission will hold a hearing April 30 on Allied Telephone Co.'s request for authority to borrow $297,000 from the Rural Electrification Administration.

The company plans to use the money to improve and extend service to 616 subscribers from a dial central office at Wilmet.

The commission will consider May 10 applications by Southwestern States Telephone Co. to transfer its properties to the New Southwestern States Telephone Co.

U.S. to Look Into Fair Disorders

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Justice Department indicated today it will look into complaints that police mishandled civil rights demonstrators in New York Wednesday. It said it makes a routine check of all such complaints.

A number of demonstrators were arrested in connection with the opening of the New York World's Fair. Some of those taken into custody had bloody heads and faces.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., reading news reports of the incidents to the Senate Wednesday, demanded that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and the Civil Rights Commission investigate reports that police had beaten the demonstrators.

He renewed his demand today, challenging the government and supporters of civil rights legislation to publicize "the blood flowing on the sidewalks of New York yesterday" with the same zeal applied to alleged Southern offenses.

Asked for comment on Russell's demand, a Justice Department spokesman said, "The department inquires into all complaints of civil rights violations or violations of federal law, whether in the North or South, to see whether any further action is warranted."

The department recently completed a preliminary investigation of complaints of police brutality in Cleveland, Ohio, racial demonstrations. The report, not made public, is understood to indicate no further action is needed there.

Long Files for State Senate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Forrest E. Long, 42, of Brinkley, filed Thursday as a candidate for the state Senate in the 26th District.

Other candidates for the post - Position 2 - are Lester Graves of Stuttgart, John D. Miller of Brinkley, and Mrs. Dorothy Allen of Brinkley.

The position was held for many years by Mrs. Allen's late husband, Tom.

Miller said he would withdraw from the race, but has not yet cancelled his filing in the secretary of state's office.

The district includes Arkansas, Monroe, Lee and Phillips counties.

Factory-made, or "store brought" clothes were not common in early Arkansas. Most of the settlers wore either buckskin or homespun clothes. In pioneer Arkansas only the very wealthy men wore beaver hats, broadcloth suits, and ruffled shirts.

A lot of football next season. Four of the injured were defensive ends.

Hog Training at Halfway Mark

U.S. to Close

Release 696,000 acres of real estate for nondefense use.

Make available 61 industrial plants for sale to American business.

Fifty-five of the new actions announced by McNamara at a news conference affect military activities in 29 states.

The primary emphasis is on consolidating — one to a city — the separate contract supervision offices maintained by the Army, Navy, Air Force and Defense Supply Agency in many places. That is to be done in two years.

The combining of these offices in 29 cities is expected to lop off 1,800 workers and save $18.8 million a year.

For the time being at least, the Navy's 11 shipyards, major Air Force and Army bases were left untouched.

The other eight actions — worth $21 million a year in savings — involve unspecified installations overseas. What will happen to them was left open, pending consultation with European and Western Hemisphere governments concerned. No forces are affected.

McNamara said in Boston last week it would take him six months to determine which of 11 naval shipyards will be closed because of heavy costs and excess capacity.

The last time the defense chief announced any base closings was last Dec. 12. The announcement came amid considerable political commotion that reportedly won reprieves for some bases, including a couple of the Navy yards.

On that occasion, 33 bases were tapped for shutdown or substantial reduction over a period of 3½ years. All but seven are in the United States.

Up to today's actions, the Pentagon reported, 494 major installations had been ordered closed or reduced, with annual savings pegged at $485 million.

McNamara estimated last winter that the base trimmings then contemplated would cut 70,000 civilian workers from the rolls.

It has been Pentagon policy to absorb as much of the worker reductions as possible through attrition and a freeze on hiring at other installations.

Employees displaced by base closings are generally offered a crack at openings elsewhere in the government complex. The Defense Department also has done some retraining, to give ousted workers new skills.

Says Faubus

boy-country boy issues didn't dominate the election.

"I didn't have any more to do with who my parents were than Faubus did with who his were," he said.

He said he had suggested to Faubus that they file for governor at the same time, but the governor turned him down.

Rockefeller said he is working to mend the split in the Arkansas Republican Party. He said Henry Britt of Hot Springs, party counsel and a 1960 GOP candidate for governor, had promised to help him.

William L. Spicer, party chairman, has not been asked to help, Rockefeller said, but his help would be welcome.

The split between Rockefeller and Spicer developed because of the campaigning for the GOP presidential nomination. Spicer backs Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona. Rockefeller backs his brother New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Rockefeller said he would back Goldwater if he got the nomination.

"I've always gotten along well with Sen. Goldwater," Rockefeller said. "I wish I could do as well with his friends."

He added, however, that at this time he still is backing his brother.

Annexation Is Recommended

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Little Rock City Planning Commission decided Thursday to recommend the annexation of 26 square miles.

It would be the city's largest annexation.

The recommendation will go to the City Manager Board, for consideration and possible placement on the November general election ballot.

Six sections ringing the city make up the area under consideration. Between 7,000 and 10,000 people live in the sections.

The Arkansas weather pattern today was the same as that of Thursday and is not likely to change in the next few days, the Weather Bureau said.

High temperature of 76 to 86 were predicted for Saturday.

Low temperatures should be in the 60s.

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Nepotism? I'm crazy about it," said Groucho Marx with his usual studied irreverence. "Too bad I'm getting too old for it."

Irreverence aside, the acidic comedian seems to be doing all right by his family these days. Tonight his lovely wife Eden joins him on the Bob Hope Show in "Time for Elizabeth," a play written by Groucho and Norman Krasna.

Recently he appeared on the Steve Allen Show to introduce a new folk music act composed of his grandchildren. "But that wasn't nepotism," he declared. "Nepotism is when your relatives have no talent."

What of various other Marxes? Daughter Melinda is nearing 18 and making sounds of wanting to be an actress. "I never suggested it to her," said Groucho, "and that's the surest way to make her want to do it."

Son Arthur is co-authoring a new television series, and brothers Gummo and Zeppo are involved in orange growing. And Harpo?

"He told me seven years ago he was retiring and he works harder than I do," said Groucho. "Right now he's touring the Northwest making appearances for United Jewish Welfare. I didn't even know he was Jewish."

With his family so actively employed you'd think that Groucho might enjoy a leisurely life. Such is not the case. He continues his frequent television appearances—last week he did two of Carl Reiner's "Celebrity Cameo" shows in one night — and he wouldn't be adverse to taking on another series like his

Free Poll Tax Interest Was Scant

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Auditor Jimmie Jones said today a check of county collectors' offices indicates scant interest among voters in the free poll tax receipt authorized by Act 19 of 1964.

Jones said that in 65 reporting counties only 1,038 of the free tax receipts have been issued.

"This indicates that the citizens of Arkansas understand that when they paid their 1964 poll tax they are automatically registered and qualified to vote in the primaries this summer," Jones said.

The free tax receipts authorize the recipient to vote for federal offices only in the primary. At this point none of the four congressmen—the only federal officials running in the primary — have opposition so the free receipts are useless.

If the intent of Act 19 had stood a court test, there probably would have been more interest in the free receipts. The law would permit the holder of a free receipt to vote for both federal and state offices but the state Supreme Court held it was invalid insofar as it would permit anyone who has not paid the tax to vote in state races.
